Sparkling wines, Spumante,

Crown caps do not have a limited shelf life, but they should be stored in a suitable environment (dry , ventilated, protected from the light, away from humidity and odorous substances)

All the caps have food certifications, are EU and FDA compliant, and are therefore suitable for use on aqueous,
acidic, and low alcoholic beverages and resistant
to pasteurization

Cap technical details: Inner liner

It guarantees food safety because the bottled beverage will not be contaminated by the chemicals in PVC. It is made of polyethylene and also act as a physical barrier against oxygen and other volatile substances. Disposing them is not harmful because they do not release toxic substances such as dioxins into the atmosphere, and their production has a low environmental impact.

PVC-FREE

It is a PVC-free cap that also has a layer of sodium sulphite, which is an active compound absorbing excess oxygen during the drink's shelf life to preserve its features for longer. The absorbent power is activated with humidity and heat and tends to disappear in the following 6 months, after which the cap becomes as a PVC-free barrier.

What do our client say?

I really liked the varnishing on these caps; they have a consistent black background with no streaks and a smooth texture that was hard to find with other suppliers. Moreover, my logo now has this nice embossed effect which can be felt as you run your fingers over the cap. Sure there might still be a few things to improve, but overall I'm really satisfied with the quality of the caps

Veza Sur Brewing Company speaks

I think the service was timely, and I appreciate that if our colors didn't work well together, you came up with other options that would make sense for our application. I think that for small batch one-off runs, this service is great.

Kellie, Director of Operations of Veza Sur Brewing & Co. – Miami, Florida
